

VALENTINE ENGAGEMENTS ARE STILL IN TIME
FOR A SUMMER 2009 WEDDING!

The newly renovated Inn at Westminster Quay, New Westminster, BC invites you to plan your wedding for summer 2009!

Vancouver, BC (February 18, 2009) – Valentine’s Day is the day for engagements and with such high demand for summer weddings, newly engaged couples could wait well over a year to plan their big day. The transformed Inn at Westminster Quay, New Westminster, BC provides a complimentary on-site wedding planner and stunning waterfront ceremonies making it easy for couples to plan their 4-star wedding in time for summer of 2009.

“Breathtaking views of the Fraser River provide the perfect backdrop for our wedding ceremonies performed on the boardwalk or the second floor patio,” said Kathy MacKerricher, General Manager. “We’ve taken New Westminster’s most intimate hotel glam with this transformation adding a fresh palette of funky fuchsia, cool aquamarine and rich indigo, creating the ultimate setting for a chic summer wedding for up to 150 guests. Best of all, we still have a few openings for summer 2009.”

Inn at Westminster Quay provides everything a couple needs for a beautiful destination wedding including rehearsal dinner, weekend stay options for guests and Sunday brunch. The Boathouse restaurant provides mouth-watering menu options for every taste and an on-site wedding planner is available to coordinate the day by helping to choose menu options and décor.

The Inn at Westminster Quay invites you to check out the new South Beach inspired lobby and guestrooms with spa-inspired baths and riverfront balconies. Drop by for a tour after visiting the numerous bridal stores on Columbia Street, affectionately known as Vancouver’s Bridal Rowe in New Westminster.

The first five (5) couples to confirm a 2009 wedding will receive a complimentary champagne toast for all of their guests!

About Inn at Westminster Quay

Inn at Westminster Quay is the first and only intimate luxe hotel on the Fraser River boardwalk in New Westminster, BC. Managed by Atlific Hotels, the Inn is an easy 30-minute ride on the SkyTrain to downtown Vancouver but miles away from city bustle. The Inn's all new look glamorously intertwines South Beach style and divine comfort throughout its living room lobby, 126 guestrooms, fitness room and meeting space. Weekly wine flight nights and riverfront balconies in guestrooms are two of many luxurious little extras. In the adjacent Boathouse restaurant, chefs serve fresh West Coast cuisine paired with wines from B.C. and around the world.
